HISTORY AND ATTENDANCE

Fairy Festivals around the United States

Similar to Oregon's Faerie Worlds, which started in 2005, and now draw thousands, Fairy Festivals have become large themed festivals internationally now scheduled in every state.

- ◆ Faerieworlds, Eugene, OR - 10,000 attendees
- ◆ FairyCon West, February, Downtown Seattle – 5,000 attendees
- ◆ Camlann Village Festivals, WA - 8,000 attendees
- ◆ Washington Midsummer Ren. Faire - Bonney Lake, WA - 30,000
- ◆ Wenatchee Renaissance Faire, Wenatchee, WA - 1,400 attendees
- ◆ Ye Merrie Greenwood Faire, Kennewick, WA - 6,000 attendees
- ◆ The Port Fairy Festival, Australia - Att.: 17,000 attendees

Fun, less rigid, and structured than Renaissance festivals, fairy festivals are simply fun events that allow a person to engage in a fun social learning event.

This event engages persons of all ages from age 5 to 80 in a fun general theme. The fairy theme crosses over into other areas of renaissance, re-enactment, fantasy, steampunk, gaming and costuming involving communities and visitors in the areas of arts, and theater and is very interactive. Local artists will achieve higher exposure with the community.

There will be increased knowledge of traditional craft arts, and importance of the environment, arts, literature, and theater. Family ties will be strengthened and people will see how all-ages activities can interact in an all-inclusive diversity theme.

There are expected to be many activities taking place at the festival to appeal to fans of fantasy and folklore.

- ◆ A Faerie Parade
- ◆ Faerie games
- ◆ Live music
- ◆ Theater productions
- ◆ Costume contests for both humans and their pets
- ◆ Face painting
- ◆ Live Pony rides for the 2014 event, especially appealing to children and families.

Overall, this is a very faerie good time!
